Call in: 1 (866) 469 3239

Purpose:
Building off of the input from public stakeholders in our initial workshops to identify the most salient and relevant DER Research Needs, this workshop will review the needs and prioritization process that they have undergone so far. The latter half of the workshop will consist of exercises to gather structured stakeholder input to further refine the scope and grouping of the identified research needs. The end goal of this workshop is to refine how research need groups will be presented in the CEC Research Roadmap and to produce a definitive list of the most salient near term DER research need topics.

Google Maps Location Data: https://goo.gl/maps/4BcWT4Uw2EiHfvfp8

The Google Community Space is located at 188 Embarcadero in San Francisco. The main doors are on Steuart street, between the YMCA and the intersection with Howard Street. The entrances and space itself are wheelchair accessible.

Our meeting will be in the Main Space on the ground floor. Attendees will need to check in at the security desk.

From BART: The Google Community space is 0.4 miles from Embarcadero BART Station. From the station exit on Market street, walk towards the Ferry Building for two blocks until you reach Steuart street. Turn Right on Steuart and follow it until you find the Community space near the YMCA and the intersection with Howard Street.

Parking: There is pay public parking on the streets adjacent to the community space, as well as on the Embarcadero. There are also pay parking garages nearby:
- SP+ Parking: 155 Main St, San Francisco, CA 94105 (0.15 mi)
- Hills Parking Garage: 345 Spear St, San Francisco, CA 94105 (0.2 mi)
- Impark: 199 Fremont Street, San Francisco, CA 94105 (0.2 mi)
